Barnett Crossbows Offers Buck Commander Rage Model

ADD THIS

The Barnett Buck Commander Rage represents a quantum leap in crossbow evolution. It combines the best design elements from all Barnett crossbows into one light-weight, hard-hitting package. If its strikingly good looks don't grab your attention, its performance and features surely will.

Most notable is the combination of the lightweight CarbonLite Riser with reverse draw technology. This creates significantly less vibration and noise than a traditional draw crossbow without sacrificing speed or accuracy. In this radical new reverse draw configuration, the limb pockets are moved closer to the trigger assembly and the limbs face forward on the bow, thus shifting the center of gravity closer to the shooter's body. This drastically reduces the weight at the front of the crossbow, which is essential for a well-balanced shot.

In addition, the CarbonLite Riser assembly further reduces the weight without compromising strength or accuracy. The most technically advanced riser ever created for a crossbow, the CarbonLite Riser removes approximately 43% of weight from the riser, which dramatically shifts the balance point to the shoulder.

Decorated in a carbon fiber finish or in a high-definition camouflage, the Buck Commander Rage is available through retailers as a complete package with crossbow, quick detach quiver, three 20" arrows and an illuminated 4x32 Multi Reticle Scope.

Barnett Buck Commander Rage Crossbow Features at a glance:

- * Composite Limbs
- * CNC Machined .875-inch Picatinny Rail
- * CROSSWIRE String and Cable System
- * Finger Guards Pass-Through Foregrip
- * Adjustable Butt Pad

Specs:

- * 6.5 lbs. weight
- * 31.7-inch length
- * 10 inch Axle-to-Axle (cocked)
- * 20 inch arrow length
- * 330 fps
- * 155 lb. draw weight
- * 97 ft. lbs. of kinetic energy

* 15.125 inch power stroke

From its inception, over a half century ago, Barnett Crossbows has led the industry with pioneering innovations and patents to become the world's number one manufacturer of crossbows. Barnett's engineers have created its latest range of crossbows based on the changing needs and desires of today's hunters. Lightweight, adjustable and powerful, Barnett has brought crossbow technology to the height it stands at today. Barnett is committed to delivering high quality performance products with unparalleled service and value for all that use the Barnett Range. Dear Mr. Waddell:

We represent Out RAGE, LLC in connection with intellectual property and other matters. We are writing regarding use by your client Barnett Outdoors, LLC ("Barnett") of Out RAGE's well known RAGE mark to identify a crossbow. Today's issue of THE OUTDOOR WIRE online publication includes an article about the "Barnett Buck Commander Rage," which "is available through retailers as a complete package with crossbow, quick detach quiver, three 20" arrows and an illuminated 4x32 Multi Reticle Scope." See <http://www.theoutdoorwire.com/story/1420423961u4vrkqnjxtp>.

Out RAGE has used and vigorously promoted its well-known RAGE mark in connection with archery equipment for over eight years. The RAGE mark identifies arrows, o-rings, quivers, replacement blades, broadhead travel cases, shock collars, and apparel, and appears prominently on Out RAGE's website www.ragebroadheads.com. As a result of such continuous, exclusive, and extensive use, Out RAGE has acquired substantial goodwill in its RAGE mark.

Out RAGE owns an incontestable federal trademark registration for RAGE for archery arrows, as well as pending federal registration applications for (i) RAGE for archery bows, cross bow bolts, and crossbows; (ii) RAGE RTT for arrows; and (iii) RAGE TAPER TECHNOLOGY for arrows.

Barnett's use of our client's well-known RAGE mark to identify a crossbow is very likely to lead consumers to believe, erroneously, that its crossbow is associated with, or approved or licensed by, Out RAGE, in violation of applicable federal and state law, including, but not limited to, the federal Lanham Act and other applicable state statutes and common law.
